Frequently Asked Questions

Got a Question?

Does Logistia work in my country?

Logistia Route Planner works in any country in the world that is mapped online. However, map data quality is different from country to country.

Logistia uses Google Maps to verify the addresses you enter, so the accuracy depends on what data Google Maps has for your area. Sometimes, we find that the Google Maps data in certain areas aren't entirely accurate, and in some cases the data can be incomplete. The fastest way to check the quality of map data in any certain area is to try a free trial and run a test with your own data. This way, you can get an example of what the routing results are like.
